MEDIA ADVISORY

WHAT: Fulfill, formerly the Foodbank of Monmouth and Ocean Counties, and the Restaurant & Hospitality Association, are partnering up to distribute food to the community during the Coronavirus outbreak. Fulfill serves a combined 25 soup kitchens and shelters in Monmouth and Ocean counties, and it has become a challenge for these facilities to continue to serve hot meals in a safe environment. Social distancing, though needed, is preventing group meals that serve our client population. Local restaurants, through the Restaurant & Hospitality Association, are offering to make individual meals, which the soup kitchens and shelters can distribute in the safest way possible. This process will limit the spread of the virus, keep restaurant employees working, and most importantly serve those in need.
